

The Best Hollow Metal Stock Doors and Frames Are Made in America of American Steel

Buying American is more than a patriotic act to support our nations' jobs and our economy; it's also good business for you and your customers

- No more worries about contaminated material. Every product made by Door Components is only of American materials. You and your customers don't need to worry about future liability from possible off-shore contamination issues.
- No more waiting for shipments from another country. We manufacture all of our doors and frames in-house and ship them the next business day after your order is received. Comparatively, companies with off-shore manufacturing need to order their stock products far in advance, manufacture to a plan and not to an individual order, ship in bulk to the U.S., and stock the inventory in a U.S warehouse.
- Every stock product is made-to-order. We build every stock product to order in six hours. We don't have a big warehouse filled with finished goods inventory; we have raw material that we turn into stock and custom products every day.
- Promote American jobs. At Door Components we have a dedicated team of workers, most of whom have worked with us for years. We are a second generation, family-owned, and believe in continuing education of employees and promoting from within the company. As our business has steadily grown we have become an important employer in San Bernardino County. We purchase only American steel, which provides employment to other American workers. We buy American and we appreciate you buying American.
